

Experiencing Chinese for Middle School Textbook2B (Chinese Edition)

This series is compiled for junior high school students who are beginners in Chinese learning, including students in public and private high schools, or independent Chinese learners aged between 13 and 24. The textbooks could also be used for Chinese teacher at relevant levels. The textbooks are divided in to six volumes, each of which includes a Student Book, a workbook. Five C-principles (Communication, Culture, Comparison, Connection and Community) are followed in the compilation of these textbooks, which mirror students real life experiences and grab their interest, for the promotion of active teaching and learning methods and creation of a joyful learning atmosphere, whose main purpose is to equip students with practical communication skills.
